

SEPTEMBER 18, 2017 / IN ART, TEXTILE ART

NEW EXHIBITION BY TRACY KRUMM

New work from Tracy Krumm: Layered; Plotted and Pannier.

We featured Tracy Krumm (who creates beautiful pieces using crochet and blacksmithing) over a year ago and we're thrilled to show her latest work.

This series focuses on using found objects as the building blocks for her art, and the results are both sculptural and tactile.

As with most forms of textiles, the process is both time consuming and meditative, as Tracy explains:

"The core of my studio practice lies in the engagement with labor-as-medium. This involves intensive and repetitive fabrication methods that influence the creative experience through their meditative and transcendental aspects."

Tracy is in a joint exhibition with painter John Bonick at the Andrea Schwartz Gallery in San Francisco until October 6th by appointment. www.asgallery.com

TAGS:

TRACY KRUMM

NO COMMENTS